

STRATEGISTS competitive salary + benefits + flexible working + WFH

THE TEAM

Our Strategists work with our AI powered platform to unearth valuable insights within text and images from online content. We're currently looking to grow and develop this team. We are looking for candidates who are fascinated by new concepts, alternative thinking and could be excited by the prospect of finding ways to get at these ideas via our AI platform.

We're looking for people who...

- above all are beady eyed and bendy brained
- are keen to break into /or further develop a career & experience in the world of cultural insights, analysis, research & strategy
- have a natural curiosity about the world of insights, cultural trends and brands
- have an interest in and an openness to technology and AI
- are comfortable working in a fast-paced environment
- are looking for ongoing learning & development
- are flexible, pragmatic and energetic
- can work together with others in a team in an open and collaborative way

THE ROLE

This role takes the lead on managing our client relationships and leading and delivering our projects end to end. Specifically the role includes...

- taking briefs and writing proposals
- running projects from commission to delivery
- owning and developing client relationships
- opportunities to present at conferences
- ongoing learning & development
- contributing to the evolution of both the platform & the business

If you're unsure you fit all the criteria but feel excited about being a part of this opportunity, please do just get in touch!

ABOUT US

discover.ai is an agile, fast-paced and constantly evolving insight start-up using a mixture of machine learning tech and human analytical and creative skills to get to new thinking and ideas. Our diverse team spans a wide range of experience and backgrounds but with a shared interest in finding creative ways to reach insights for our clients and to stay at the forefront of a changing industry. Although we're a tech company our core values are very 'human' – all about being sharp, playful, warm and imperfect and we've worked hard to create a strong feeling of community, both online and in person. Having recently celebrated our 4th year we've now run over 700 projects across brand, insight and cultural challenges, working with some of the largest and most innovative companies, exploring exciting insights to identify growth opportunities.

Flexible working is a core value for us and our structure allows individuals to work either from home or from our co-working space in London, across the hours to meet personal and family

The logo for discover.ai is displayed in white text on a black background. To the right of the logo is a decorative graphic featuring a torn paper effect. The background behind the tear is black, and the torn edges reveal a pattern of green and white diagonal stripes. A small red triangle is positioned on the left side of the tear, and a green leaf-like shape is visible on the right side.
